BALLAST WATER MANAGEMENT CONFERENCE AND EXHIBITION 2004

Organised by the Institute of Environmental Science and Engineering (iESE) and Nanyang Technological University (NTU), the 2nd International Conference & Exhibition on Ballast Water Management (ICBWM) will be held at Raffles Town Club from 19-21 May 2004.

This year's ICBWM will be highly relevant to the shipping and maritime industries with ballast water management procedures expected to be implemented in the near future.

The discussion highlights include IMO regulations, standards and protocols for ballast water management practices, effective ship designs and new technologies for ballast water monitoring.

Please refer to the attached brochure from iESE and NTU with more details of the event, including registration fees.

Members who are interested in attending the seminar are kindly requested to either register online at www.ntu.edu.sg/iese/ballast2004 or via attached form and faxing it back directly to organizers by 8 April 2004.

To enjoy further discount of 10% on registration fees, groups of 3 or more participants from the same company must be submitted together.

For further enquiries, please contact Ms Adeline Soong from iESE at (65) 6794 1534 or LPSoong@ntu.edu.sg.

We look forward to your participation.

Thank you.

Regards,

SHARON LIM
